Easter - 1975

Here comes Peter Cottontail-
Hoppin down the bunny trail-
Hippity-hoppity
Easter's on its way!

Hooray! Oh, I can hardly wait...Easter bunny, colored eggs, jelly beans, chocolate rabbits, egg hunts...isn't it exciting? I sure hope I get a big Easter basket with lots of pretty grass!

And the excitement of Easter Sunday morning...new dress, Easter bonnet, white gloves, shiny new shoes, just wait till everyone sees how pretty I look. And I'm getting so excited to see how everybody else looks - it's such a grand parade! Wow - Linda sure is smashing! Jenny looks so sweet. John sure is handsome - Gary can't be beat! Everyone looks so happy - what an Easter treat!

After the service is over (a little bit long today) it's home to check the meat. The dinner on Easter Sunday sure is hard to beat. Sweet potatoes and ham, homemade rolls and pie, Easter is so special - and that's certainly not a lie!

Or for some - Easter is the one Sunday of the year they go to church. Something about it - they just don't want to miss.

Is Easter for the Easter bunny? Or just a great big grand parade? Is that all there is to it? Although that's the only side some people will see this year - I'm thankful to say that there's a lot more to Easter than all of that!

For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life.
John 3:16

Christ was born to die.

During his few short years of ministry he did great and wonderful things. He healed the sick, made the blind to see, made the lame to walk and laid down the pattern we should all strive to live by.

He also knew his mission and tried to prepare his disciples for it. And while they (disciples) abode in Galilee, Jesus said unto them, "The Son of man shall be betrayed into the hands of men: And they shall kill him, and the third day he shall be raised again." John 17:22,23

So it came to pass - after they had accused him (the innocent one):

Then he (Pilate) released Barabbas unto them: and when he had scourged Jesus, he delivered him to be crucified. Then the soldiers of the governor took Jesus into the common hall, and gathered unto him the whole band of soldiers. And they stripped him, and put on him a scarlet robe. And when they had plaited a crown of thorns, they put it upon his head, and a reed in his right hand: and they bowed the knee before him and mocked him saying, Hail, King of the Jews! And they spit upon him, and took the reed, and smote him on the head. And after that they had mocked him, they took the robe off from him, and put his own raiment on him, and led him away to crucify him. They gave him vinegar to drink mingled with gall: and when he had tasted thereof, he would not drink. And they crucified him, and parted his garments, casting lots: that it might be fulfilled which was apoken by the prophet, They parted my garments among them, and upon my vesture did they cast lots. And sitting down they watched him there; And set up over his head his accusation written, THIS IS JESUS THE KING OF THE JEWS. And about the ninth hour Jesus cried with a loud voice, saying, My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me? Jesus, when he cried again with a loud voice, yielded up the ghost.

When evening came, a rich man, named Joseph, who also was himself Jesus' disciple - went to Pilate and begged him for the body of Jesus. When Joseph had taken the body, he wrapped it in a clean linen cloth. And laid it in his own new tomb, which he had hewn out in the rock: and he rolled a huge stone to the door and departed.

Matthew 27:26-31, 34-37, 46, 50, 57-60 tragic - isn't it? But did everything end there? Did that spell defeat? Don't you believe it!

Now upon the first day of the week, very early in the morning, they came unto the sepulchre, bringing the spices which they had prepared, and certain others with them. And they found the stone rolled away from the sepulchre. And they entered in, and found not the body of the Lord Jesus. And it came to pass, as they were much perplexed thereabout, behold, two men stood by them in shining garments: And as they were afraid, and bowed down their faces to the earth, they said unto them, Why seek ye the living among the dead? He is not here, but is risen: remember how he spake unto you when he was yet in Galilee, Saying, The Son of man must be delivered into the hands of sinful men, and be crucified, and the third day rise again. And they remembered his words.

Luke 24:1-8

He Arose!

He showed himself to Mary, to the two men on the road to Emmaus, to his disciples. . . Doubt it? So did Thomas until he thrust his hand into Jesus' side. Jesus saith unto him, "Thomas, because thou hast seen me, thou hast believed: blessed are they that have not seen, and yet have believed." An many other signs truly did Jesus in the presence of his disciples, which are not written in this book: But these are written, that ye might believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God; and that believing ye might have life through his name.

John 20:29-31

And behold, I send the promise of my Father unto you: but tarry ye in the city of Jerusalem, until ye be endued with power from on high. And he led them out as far as to Bethany, and he lifted up his hands, and blessed them. And it came to pass, while he blessed them, he was parted from them, and carried up into heaven. And they worshipped him, and returned to Jerusalem with great joy: And were continually in the temple, praising and blessing God.

Luke 24:49-53

For all have sinned, and come short of the glory of God. Romans 3:23

For the wages of sin is death; but the gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord. Romans 6:23

Jesus saith unto him, "I am the way, the truth, and the life: no man cometh unto the Father, but by me." John 14:6

For by grace are ye saved through faith; and that not of yourselves: it is the gift of God: Not of works, lest any man should boast. Ephesians 2:8,9

What is Easter all about? The death and especially the resurrection of Jesus Christ. He arose! He triumphed over sin and death and hell!

He died for a purpose - to give us the free gift of salvation - eternal life.

He arose! ✓

He arose!

✓ Halleluia - Christ arose!

To experience what Easter is really about - you need to accept his free gift and experience it in your own heart. If you don't have that joy and peace - won't you experience it today?

Safety Committee Elects. . .

The following were recently elected to the Safety Committee: Gene Gaevert, Murray Young and Sylvia Eger. They along with Don Florea and chairman Ray Stevens will be meeting on a regular basis to attempt to make our plants better and safer places for all to work. Any suggestions and/or comments you have will be welcomed by the committee.

SCENE AT SALES

Lately sales has been rather quiet. Not much seems to be happening.

We are very thankful to have Lou Murphy back with us, even if it is only part time. We are looking forward to when she is back with us full time. We all need to pray for her recovery so that she can come back. We really do need her.

With the Easter season approaching, we realize how much we have to be thankful for. Praise the Lord for his wonderful plan of Salvation and the opportunity that we have to have it in our lives. We should continually thank him for loving us and dying on the cross. Let's just remember to give thanks and praise where they are due.

HAM REPORT . . . by Don Florea

Congratulations!! Richard Putz has been working on getting his Novice license for about three months.

Finally, he got it. Those of you who are familiar with the FCC realize that two out of the three months were spent dealing with FCC paperwork.

So, again, congratulations, Richard!

At present we are expecting to hear from the FCC any day now--it has been about two months since we sent in our club application. Hopefully, we will have it in a week or two.

As some of you amateurs know, June 28 is field day, so keep your ears open for further information. For those who don't know what field day is--

"mosquitos, rain, Murphy, trees, generators, tents" and a lot of fun would sum it up. Field day is when hams get together for a communications contest...when the individuals or a club set up portable operations out in a field, for example, for the purpose of contacting the most people possible in a 24-hour period of time.

At the present time, there is a very strong push for our "club" to enter the contest. If you're interested, contact John Bachman.

P.S. I hear Ron Harner is going to make a wind generator!?!?

The goal of criticism is to leave the person with the feeling that he's been helped.

From Credit. . . .

OH! love and anguish such as Thine
ne'er mingled in one stream;
It seems as though the tale divine
Must be a lovely dream,
That vanishes at break of day,
Or, like the rainbow, melts away.

Say, did the King of Glory leave
His own eternal throne,
Not only as a man to live,
But a rejected One?
Yes; He the universe controls,
Yet He came down to ransom souls.

Ah! long and weary was the way
Our blessed Saviour trode;
For all our sorrows on Him lay,
And sins a heavy load.
From infancy to manhood's years
His lot was toil, and grief, and tears.

Gethsemane! my spirit dies
When I remember thee;
The blood, the groans, the bitter cries
Wrung from His agony,
As fainting on the grass He lay,
Unsoothed by human sympathy.

And then the cross! - the cross of shame
On which they nailed my Lord;
The anguish that convulsed His frame
As wrath on Him poured;
The crown of thorns on that bowed Head;
The rending cry, "It is finished!"

And this for me! a thing of sin!
Who but deserve to die;
No ray of light, without, within,
Except from Calvary!
For me! - for me that blood did flow!
For me that mystery of woe!

Oh! Son of Mary! Son of God!
Beloved, dying Friend!
I've never felt how much I owed,
Nor shall do to the end;
Yet this I feel, these things are true,
Which Heaven shall bring to brighter view.

I love Thee for the life of love
That lived through hate and scorn
For pity, that no snare could move,
Even in Thy dying morn.
I'll praise Thee while I yet have breath
Oh! keep me faithful unto death!

A curate is visiting a vicar at his rectory one day and they find that their birthdays are on the same day. The vicar remarks that three of his parishioners have their birthdays on the same day.

The ages of the three parishioners have a product of 2,450 years and added together are equal to twice the curate's age. The vicar asks the curate, 'What then are the ages of the three parishioners?' The curate sat thinking for an hour (for he was not very quick at mental arithmetic) and then he said to the vicar, 'You haven't given me enough information!'

So the vicar said, 'I'm so sorry, I am older than any of my parishioners and am the same age as the product of the two youngest.'

How old is the vicar?

GOAT TETHERED HERE

Most puzzle books give at least one problem concerning a goat in a field. We feel that we ought to keep up this tradition. However, our problem is a little more complex than most!

Our great-great- . . . great grandfather was an eccentric who left a considerable fortune to be devoted to the upkeep of his mausoleum. The Will ran thus:-

' . . . a goat must be tethered to the wall of my mausoleum so that it can just keep the wall clear of grass as well as eating half the area of the field. The mausoleum walls must be circular and concentric with the field, also circular, in which my body lies. The remainder of the field . . . '

Now the mausoleum is 58 yd in diameter. How large is the field?

A wholesale merchant may have to weigh amounts from one pound to one hundred and twenty-one pounds, to the nearest pound. To do this, what is the minimum number of weights he requires and how heavy should each weight be?

SEE THROUGH BEANS?

15. Suppose you were asked to guess the number of beans in a jar. You are given this clue: The number therein, when divided by 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9 and 10, will always leave a remainder of one. How many beans are in the jar?

The problem relates to losing the lead which includes ties. If A polls a votes, B polls b votes, a > b.

A can lose the lead in two ways:

- (i) B gets the first vote and so A loses the lead at once.
- (ii) A gets the first vote but loses the lead at some later stage.

The number of votes, up to the first point when he loses the lead, must be even and must end with a B.

The point is that the number of cases under (i) is the same as the number under (ii); for to any sequence A . . . B there corresponds one and only one sequence with A's and B's interchanged.

The probability that the sequence begins with a B is $\frac{b}{a+b}$.

Thus the chance that A loses the lead is $\frac{2b}{a+b}$ and the chance that he never loses the lead is $1 - \frac{2b}{a+b} = \frac{a-b}{a+b}$. If a = 9, b = 6, the chance of not losing the lead = $\frac{9-6}{9+6} = \frac{3}{15} = \frac{1}{5}$.

The odds are 4 to 1 against.

62. If Mrs. Sarah Fountain died before her husband how could she be his widow?

50. It is necessary for each guard to retrace his steps over at least two of the roads or walk over nineteen roads in order to cover his route in the last possible distance. Here is one solution: Start at B and walk roads 1, 3, 8, 8, 6, 7, 10, 10, 5, 2, 4, 9, 14, 17, 15, 12, 11, 13, 16. The roads retraced are 8 and 10. The route may be changed but it is not possible to shorten it.

Safety Shoes a Help. . . .

Yes, safety shoes do--and did--really help, especially Dave Stuber. While moving a 700 pound barrel of ammonia, the container hit a crack in the floor and tipped, falling on Dave's foot. Fortunately he was well protected by his safety shoes and escaped injury.

If Dave had not worn safety shoes,

Service. . . With a Smile (?)

Well, I've gotten myself roped into another job! It seems that everyone is pretty busy at the southeast end of Plant 1, but I guess I'll be the busiest -trying to keep up on all of the gossip back here!

Service Dept. boasts a new Assistant Service Manager, Jack Collins. He got acquainted with the department by servicing amps along with Mike and Garry. He now has customer relations responsibilities. Ted Lenox is helping service amps on a part time basis. . . and is planning on getting married in the near future. Congratulations, Ted. The technical service area now has an official director--Jim Clymer. We wish you luck with your new responsibility, Jim.

Speaking of responsibilities--Dave and Jim really have it now! The McLaughlins and Clymers have received into their homes and hearts two children who need their love and help. Thank the Lord for couples who can share in this way.

St. Patrick's Day is fast approaching us. Ask Rachel about the magic that happens on this shamrock day. Hey, Rachel, how long did it take you last year to find out who the mysterious Little Leprechaun was?

I'll close with an Easter blessing to you. Alleluia, Christ has risen!

Tax Tips from Ross

April 15th is the deadline for filing your federal Income Tax Return. If for some reason you cannot complete it by then, you can receive an automatic 2-month extension of time to file your 1975 return by filing Form 4868. But you'll have to make a tentative estimate of your tax for the year and pay when you file the extension.

If you do not have the money to pay the taxes due, payment can be delayed; however, this will result in interest accruing on the underpayment at 6% per annum from the due date of the return until payment is made. (9% beginning June 30, 1975.)

Even if you cannot pay the tax, be sure to file a return or extension.
Failure to do so will result in an additional penalty of 5% a month for each month or fraction thereof during which the delinquency continues.

The bowling season is drawing to a close quite rapidly now and the CROWN teams are slowing their runs to a very slow walk for first place.

At this point it looks like the ladies will finish ahead of the men. However, being a member of the men's team, I will hereby challenge the ladies to a 'roll-off', using handicaps at a date and place of their choosing.

Spring sports are beginning to assert themselves in the minds of many CROWNies. If your interest is outdoors, there's no better time to get acquainted with sports than in the summer. Whether your interests be golf, volleyball, badmitten, horseshoes, softball or a little chess in the sun on a picnic table, you'll find someone at CROWN willing to play. I know because I've participated in all the above with CROWN people.

For those of you who have expressed your concern about practicing softball so early, I would just like to say: "It's better to get all sore and tired now than after the first game!!"

SWEET EASTER CHIMES

Come, ye faithful raise the strain
of triumphant gladness;
God hath brought His Israel
Into joy from sadness;
Loosed from Pharaoh's
 bitter yoke
Jacob's sons and daughters;
Led them with unmoistened foot
Through the Red Sea waters.

Tis the spring
 of souls to-day;
Christ hath burst His prison,
And from three day's sleep
 in death
As a sun hath risen;
All the winter of our sins,
Long and dark
 is flying from His light,
To Whom we give
Laud and praise undying.

Neither might
 the gates of death,
Nor the tomb's dark portal
Nor the watcher,
 nor the seal,
Hold Thee as a mortal;
But to-day amidst Thine own
Thou didst stand bestowing
That Thy peace which evermore, Passeth human knowing.

century Easter card.
